The graph displays the performance of two Maxlite pump models. The y-axis represents head (H) in meters (m) and feet (Ft), ranging from 0 to 3.5. The x-axis represents flow rate (Qv) in liters per minute (l/min) and gallons per hour (Gph), ranging from 0 to 90. The Maxlite 12V pump is represented by a blue line with circular markers, and the Maxlite 24V pump is represented by an orange line with circular markers. The Maxlite 24V pump has three additional data points at lower flow rates and head values, indicated by orange vertical tick marks on the x-axis and corresponding labels.
